Chair of SPARK Teachers

Independent consultant focusing on responsible learning processes in Denmark and across Europe.

“I love the combination of my work, focusing on the power of language and discourse, part of this being deconstructing existing unjust power hierarchies and imagining what different futures could look like in our schools, at our workplaces, in the media, and in society at large, and embracing inner work of healing, community building and solidarity.”

ENAR Foundation Systemically inclusive society

We work on building a Systemically Inclusive Society to help racialised people thrive by boosting their social and financial opportunities in order to create systemic change and demonstrate how an inclusive and equitable society can function, because our society was designed to discriminate and disadvantage racialised groups.

Inclusive Societies

We have established SPARK Communities to help racialised professionals from various sectors exchange experience, get recognised and grow by creating inspiring pan-European networking spaces, because we need to counteract the social capital gap racialised people have been facing in society.
